

Straight Talk

by Muriel Sluyter

What is our future?

12 August, 2003

Greetings, Gentle Reader,

America's culture is self-destructing rapidly. Consider: European immigrants clung to native languages, dress and foods, determined they wouldn't fall victim to their becoming Americans. Yet, few failed to become functional in English. They could neither vote nor fully participate in society otherwise. They weren't coddled, as are today's immigrants; coming here was a privilege, not a right.

Now, immigrants transplant their culture. Mexicans, often here illegally, needn't learn English, or about America. They are fully accommodated. In some cities, government employees are required by law to be fluent in Spanish; English is rarely heard. Worse, bilingual education guarantees their children will never master English.

Though they aren't Americans, their children get special grants to attend college, where many demand that California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas be returned to Mexico. They insist that America is the "bronze continent" and belongs to the "bronze people." Meanwhile, the American taxpayer picks up the tab and provides them a forum from which to foment sedition.

Of course, we could declare America "Mexico-north," and submit to the Mexican government, then we and they could enjoy the wonders of oppression and malnutrition together.

Some Midwestern cities have become mostly Arab. English is rarely heard, government accommodates immigrants in Arabic. Many don't integrate; they don't have to.

We're self-destructing incrementally because:

1) Our kids learn almost no geography. Proficiency in reading and math is dismally low. The PC history they're taught is so tweaked, so twisted, they're losing their heritage. The most vulnerable are trapped in the worst schools, while elected representatives send their children to private schools.

2) American parents send their offspring to colleges infested with anti-American professors who teach them to be ashamed of their country, that our forefathers were rapacious, unprincipled predators, whose goal was to oppress all but the white elite.

3) America's families are disintegrating. Parents betray their children, encouraging them to adopt whatever values and beliefs seem comfortable to them, rather than giving solid guidelines. Then they wonder why their children adopt a self-destructive lifestyle.

4) many of today's parents were raised with the "if it feels good do it" philosophy, and denied the solid background needed to teach children constructive patterns. Consequently, their offspring jump on every phony bandwagon around, PETA, global warming, over-population, Save the whales! Save the trees! Save the planet! Have meaningless sex, but wear a condom!

5) they also accept the concept of suicide, a direct result of being raised in a value-starved world of confusion and chaos, where there are neither rights nor wrongs.

6) they believe killing babies is a necessary, patriotic act; that it's the government's responsibility to fix individual's problems; that AIDS is caused by government neglect and homophobia.

7) Our elected representatives' duty is to labor for the good of our nation, but some deliberately work to keep our economy sluggish, no matter who suffers, to get political traction in upcoming elections.

8) Nominees for federal judgeships should be approved, absent provable incompetence or corruption, but our current president cannot get judges approved unless they are pro-abortion. The legal right to kill babies has fatally tainted our constitutional system.

9) So-called endangered species are shutting down military bases our men need for training to fight our wars.

10) Finally, thanks to Colorado's Pat Schroeder and her perverted pals, our legislators send our little 95-pound girls to do our fighting. George Washington would've died of shame at the thought. That's okay with today's traitors, who reap the rewards of his vision, courage, devotion and service. They would relish the opportunity to cause him pain.

Truly, we have become Mexico-north/Europe-west, and embraced surefire cultural suicide.